Brightlingsea is a delightful small sailing town on the Essex Sunshine Coast. It has much to offer to the day visitor or for a relaxing short break.

The town has something for everyone no matter what age or interests. The historic town centre has a variety of interesting mainly independent shops as well as many old buildings set among the narrow streets which lead down to the waterside.

On the waterside you can either take time to explore the town hard where you can wile away many an hour watching the comings and goings from the jetty where you will usually see families and children enjoying crabbing or other pastimes.

From the hard you can stroll along the promenade past the rows of colourful beach huts, past the open air swimming pool, children's playground to Bateman Tower where you will discover our Blue Flag beach and tidal filled paddling pool next to the Bateman Tower café.

For those wanting to learn more about this historical Cinque port town, you can visit the Museum in the town centre and enjoy the many exhibitions and displays chronicling the towns development.
